

The estimates for total biomass are from biomass resources available by county, including: crop residues (average for 2003-2007); forest and primary mill residues (2007); secondary mill and urban wood waste (2002); methane emissions from landfills (2008); domestic wastewater treatment (2007); and animal manure (2002).

BIOMASS RESOURCES OF THE US

Total Biomass per Square Kilometer

Sources:
 This map was modified from a map produced by the National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) for the U.S. DOE (09/23/09), using data developed by NREL. Projection: Albers Equal Area Conic.